

Account Services

We manage over 600 projects a year ranging in size from $2 million to $2,500. Our ala carte services range from design/build to negotiated contracts and offer flexible solutions centered around your desired business results. We have offices in several US cities along with an additional 50 regional and international support offices. Wherever the need, we strive to provide a technically experienced and knowledgeable support team of sales, engineering, IT, project management, installation and support services personnel.

Your desired results are at the center of every solution and recommendation we present. The flexibility to provide negotiated contracts, standard labor rates, predictable pricing, design specifications and engineering standards as well as defined operating procedures all give "you" the reliability to create the type of account services you need from us.

No matter where your geographic needs lie, VTI can provide your technology solutions. We use the "local service and national coverage" model established by Security-Net, which for years has proven to be the standard in national security management.

As a regional office of Security-Net, we also coordinate the activities of member offices. The result is a simple and well-organized team, giving our customers one point of contact. VTI's emphasis on communication, engineering and project management, coupled with the strength of Security-Net's 50 branch offices and over 1,000 employees, enable us to provide your security solutions.
